NEWS RELEASE

RHODES SAYS TAX LEVY ESTIMATES NOW ON WEBSITE

Hamilton County's November ballot will include nineteen (19) proposed new or renewing property tax levies. Besides the county-wide Children's Services additional levy, there are six (6) municipalities with proposed levies, four (4) township levies, five (5) school districts with levies.

Glendale, Mariemont and the Mariemont School District have two levies each.

For more than a decade Hamilton County property owners have been able to see what proposed new tax levies would cost them before they voted. This year they are again able to get an estimate based on their current property valuation according to County Auditor Dusty Rhodes.

"We again have this specific information for every property on our website, www.hamiltoncountyauditor.org," said Rhodes. "I urge all property owners to check our website for estimates of their individual levy cost before they vote. They should go to their main property page and then click on "Levy Info" on the right side column if there are proposed levies in their taxing district," he added.

Rhodes also issued a summary of all proposed levies on the November ballot including the estimated cost for an owner-occupied residence currently valued at $100,000.

Calculations for qualifying renewal levies are based on a $100,000 market value residential property receiving the non-business and owner occupied credits, and using a sales tax reduction of 0.932802 times the owner occupied credit figure.

Due to legislative changes by the State (H.B. 59), calculations for new and replacement levies, as well as renewals of non-qualifying levies, are based on a $100,000 market value residential property not receiving any credits.

* Annual yield includes the property tax allocations from the State of Ohio.
